I have been buying Epson products for years and have generally been very happy. When I bought the C88 (the old name for this printer), after a month it started.

I loaded a new black ink cartridge into my Epson Stylus C86. The computer is not registering a new ink cartridge. Any thoughts?

I m having the exact same problem with TWO Epson printers. A stylus Photo R320, and a Stylus C86. They both ran out of black ink (not really, shaking the cartridges).

Epson printer resetting and maintenance. This utility also has other features such as separate colour cleaning and deep cleaning.
